ABOUT US

For 60 years, Techlem has provided patient handling solutions to hospitals and clinics around the world. From our first stretcher prototype to our most recent full hospital outfit, we've strived for value, efficiency, and care. Our products are proudly North American made with the highest quality components, delivering industry best costs of ownership.

Our passionate staff work tirelessly to produce durable, high quality products with customer service to match. We create unique, user-friendly catalogs for our supply chain partners, bridging the gap between purchasers and end-users. Why choose to partner with Techlem? Because of our commitment to finding the most useful, cost effective, and personalized catalog program for every customer. Why choose Techlem stretchers? Because in quality control, durability, cost of ownership, and value over time, they are the envy of the industry.

We value our 60 years of partnerships. We have a dedicated staff with more than 100 combined years' experience in the industry, and nearly 100 years' combined service to Techlem.

Our unshakably caring corporate culture is our pride. We extend this culture in well established, long lasting relationships with customers in the Americas, Europe, Asia, and Australia. We maintain a commitment to a same or next-day response time, and to a highly competitive turnaround time at every step of the purchase process, from quotation to invoicing. We offer personal, conscientious customer service unmatched in the industry.

CUVERRO SHIELD BY AEREUS

ANTIMICROBIAL COPPER COATING

CuVerro Shield™ by Aereus Technologies is an antimicrobial permanent coating that is applied to create surfaces with 24/7 bacteria protection. Its one-time application bonds to almost any hard surface mechanically, without altering its design. This Aereus solution is cost-effective, medical grade and easy to clean.

- Kills bacterial matter virtually on contact. Remains effective after repeated contaminations.
- Inhibits the buildup and growth of bacteria between routine cleanings.
- Permanent, durable, excellent wear resistance. No need to reapply for the life of the product.
